Herbsmith Quality Control

At Herbsmith, we make every effort to be sure we are always offering the best herbal formulas on the market. From the soil the herbs grow in to the finished bottles going out the door, we validate every step of the process, using only proven, trustworthy suppliers, holding ourselves to the highest ethical standards and abiding by the most stringent testing and manufacturing guidelines in the world. A Certificate of Analysis must be received, analyzed and approved for every ingredient that Herbsmith uses.

AUTHENTICITY

To ensure that only the most authentic herbs go into Herbsmith herbal blends, all raw materials used in production are subjected to a battery of tests including Thin Layer Chromatography (TLC), a sophisticated means of identifying the makeup of individual substances in a given compound. This unique fingerprint confirms the chemical composition and authenticity of each and every herb we use and allows us to use only the most high-quality herbs available.

Despite thousands of research articles and case studies touting the countless benefits, Chinese herbology can at times be associated with a negative stigma. This is the direct result of a small amount of companies using improperly tested herbs from unreliable sources. It is Herbsmith's mission to dispel this stigma through education, meticulous attention to detail and impeccable safety standards.

PURITY

Heavy Metal Limits Allowed

The herbs next undergo High Performance Liquid Chromatography (HPLC), a test performed on all pharmaceuticals to confirm the consistency and concentration of the compound. This step assures that each herb is at its maximum potency and effectiveness.

Further testing for moisture content, dissolution, heavy metals (lead, arsenic, mercury, cadmium) and microbial content are performed on every batch, including Aristolochic Acid and Chloramphenicol testing.

When the herbs arrive in the United States for manufacturing, they are reviewed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to further guarantee that every element that goes into Herbsmith herbal blends meets the absolute highest standards for purity and safety.

SAFETY

Safety is priority number one at Herbsmith. That's why we take pride in the fact that our herb source uses only manufacturers that comply with the strict Chinese Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) and have been certified by the Australian Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA), which maintains some of the highest standards in the world. The TGA holds all dietary and herbal supplements to the same stringent standards as pharmaceuticals. To become TGA certified, a manufacturer must meet standards set for the building and grounds, equipment, personnel and training, sanitation and hygiene, air and water purification, production and documentation.

Herbsmith receives certificates of analysis from independent laboratories for every batch of herbs that go into our herbal blends. This assures us that all necessary steps have been taken to ensure the quality and potency of every formula that carries the Herbsmith name and gives us the confidence to say that Herbsmith is the best natural option for animal health and wellness.

Gentian Relieve Allergies is recommended for use in dogs and cats with seasonal allergies.

- All natural, steroid-free formula
- Supports skin health
- Supports healthy immune response

Indications: An allergy is a hypersensitivity reaction to food, inhalant, or contact. The body's defenses are signaled into an overreaction to a particular substance. This hypersensitivity often causes extreme heat in the animal, seen as reddened skin, hot weepy lesions, panting, restlessness and skin that may be hot to the touch. Gentian Relieve Allergies has Chinese herbs that cool heat and harmonize the body's defenses to help support normal skin functions.

Chinese Theories: According to Chinese medical theory, the liver acts as a pump that provides the smooth flow of energy, or Qi (pronounced "chee"), within the body. When allergies lead to Liver Qi Stagnation, an imbalance within the liver, the "pump" overheats and produces skin that may be hot to the touch. The herbs in Gentian Relieve Allergies harmonize the liver and clear this heat without hindering the dog's overall vitality.

Chinese medicine explains that life is a balance of yin and yang. Yin represents the fluids, maternal, quiet, nighttime and passive aspects of the body. Yang represents the heat, inflammation, active, male, daytime and aggressive aspects. When allergies exist the body is in a state of excess heat, or yang. As the heat increases, it eventually burns off the essential fluids, or yin.

This depletion of fluids causes the development of phlegm in a pet. Phlegm is seen in the form of a greasy coat, foul-smelling breath, and eye and ear discharge. Gentian Relieve Allergies resolves the heat and excess yang. With proper diet and care, the yin is replenished and healthy skin is maintained.

Gastrodia Settle Seizures increases the firing threshold of neurons within the brain, reducing the amount and severity of seizures.

Gastrodia Settle Seizures aids in the management of:

- Seizures
- Epilepsy
- Petit Mal Seizures
- Twitching

Indications: Seizures are defined as uncontrolled massive random firings of neurons within the brain. In western veterinary medicine, the cause is often unknown. Chinese veterinary medicine considers seizures to be a severe version of internal wind.

In scientific studies gastrodia, the main herb in Gastrodia Settle Seizures, has been shown to increase the firing threshold of neurons. By raising the firing threshold, this formula decreases the random, uncontrolled firing of neurons within the brain, leading to fewer and less severe seizures.

Aids in the management of seizures, epilepsy, petit mal seizures, and twitching.

Chinese Theories: Chinese medical theory views the animal body as similar to nature. A seizure is considered to be an internal tornado, the most extreme version of excessive wind. In nature, a tornado often occurs when a cold air front meets a hot air front. In the animal, seizures are often seen after an experience that causes extreme heat, such as toxins, extreme immune response, chronic frustration and/or poor diet. This heat within the body is considered liver yang rising upward. The herbs in Gastrodia Settle Seizures extinguish wind and calm liver yang.

Rehmannia Settle Anxiety is recommended for dogs exhibiting nervousness, hyperactivity, and/or discontentment responding to environmentally-induced stress.

- All natural, sedative-free formula
- Naturally calms the anxious dog's spirit

Rehmannia Settle Anxiety is recommended for:

- Shyness
- Separation fear
- Clinginess
- Fear aggression
- Hyperactivity
- Fear of loud noises
- Thungerphobia
- Environmentally-induced stress

Indications: Herbsmith Rehmannia Settle Anxiety is for the dog exhibiting nervousness, hyperactivity, and discontentment responding to environmentally-induced stress. Herbsmith Rehmannia Settle Anxiety also helps to maintain contentment during separation, travel and tension caused by changes in the pet's daily routine. Other indications may include shyness, clinginess, thunderphobia, separation anxiety, and fear aggression. The herbs in this formula help to maintain calmness and balance behavior.

Chinese Theories: Chinese theory considers anxious behavior to be a disharmony within the body. Herbs can be used to manage this issue. Rehmannia Settle Anxiety is a combination of Chinese herbs that calm the spirit and harmonize the heart and kidney.

In Chinese theory the heart not only pumps blood, but also houses the spirit and provides the ability to be settled in the world. In a healthy dog, the heart, a fire element (yang), and the kidney, a water element (yin), are balanced. Excessive emotional or physical stress and aging can diminish normal kidney function, which leads to the inability to control heart shen and subsequently allows nervousness to occur.

Anxious behavior may also occur due to an imbalance of the heart itself. Any depletion of heart yin or blood may exhibit signs such as heat or agitation. The Chinese herbs in Rehmannia Settle Anxiety are specially combined to support normal kidney function and tonify heart yin and blood, thus calming the spirit.

Peony Calm Shen is recommended for dogs exhibiting fear aggression, nervousness, hyperactivity, and/or discontentment responding to environmentally-induced stress.

- All natural, sedative-free formula
- Naturally calms the anxious dog's spirit

Peony Calm Shen is recommended for:

- Fear aggression
- Separation fear
- Clinginess
- Hyperactivity
- Shyness
- Fear of loud noises
- Thunderphobia
- Environmentally-induced stress

Indications: Herbsmith Rx Peony Calm Shen is a combination of herbs to calm heart and resolve liver qi stasis. Great for the fear aggressive dog. Other indications may include anxiety, fear, and irritability.

Chinese Theories: Anxiety is the negative emotion of disturbed heart shen and aggression and irritability are the negative emotion of a liver imbalance. It is not unusual in veterinary practice to see combinations of fear and anxiety with irritability and aggression.

Liver Qi stagnation is brought on by stress and chronic frustration as well as toxins. Liver Qi stagnation is commonly experienced in today's animals. In the five element theory liver affects heart or wood affects fire. As the liver Qi Stagnation exists in the patient it can also affect the heart shen. Resulting in the combination of negative emotions of irritability and aggression with anxiety and fear.

Angelica Harmonize Joints is recommended to maintain healthy joint function.

- Maintains normal movement
- Perfect for the dog with joint discomfort associated with normal, every day activity
- Naturally supports joint function
- Complementary and compatible with glucosamine

Indications: Maintenance of healthy joints requires proper function of the joint capsule, cartilage on the bone endings and viscosus joint fluid. Maintaining the joints of an active dog is paramount to a healthy life. Angelica Harmonize Joints assists in the maintenance of healthy joint capsules and in the preservation of thickened joint fluid. Angelica Harmonize Joints is complimentary and compatible with glucosamine products - a step beyond glucosamine supplementation. It has all natural herbal qualities that maintain normal movement.

Recommended to help maintain normal healthy joint function. Perfect for the dog with joint discomfort associated with normal, everyday activity.

Chinese Theories: From a Chinese perspective, joint discomfort is the result of an obstruction of the flow of energy, or Qi (pronounced "chee"), through the tissue of the joint and an invasion of external pathogenic factors such as wind, cold and damp. This obstruction and invasion may occur due to many factors including trauma, prolonged exposure to wind and damp, overuse of the limbs, poor genetics, etc.

To maintain healthy joint function, Chinese theory recommends a combination of herbs that moves blood and Qi within and around the joint and expels pathogenic factors. By reestablishing the flow of energy within the joint, normal motion is maintained.

Sound Tendon

Proprietary Blend:

Epimedium (yin yang huo)
Nourish Kidney Yang and Yin

Mulberry Vine (sang zhi)
Tonifies liver and kidney, strengthens sinews and bones

Angelica Sinensis, head (dang gui tuo)
Nourishes Blood

White Peony Root (bai shao yao)
Nourish Blood and Yin, soothe Liver Yang

Cyathulae (chuan niu xi)
Strengthens the Kidney and benefit the knees

Ligusticum – Szechuan Lovage Rhizome
(chuan xiong)
Move blood, resolve stagnation

Lycium Berries (gou qi zi)
Nourish Liver Yin and Liver Blood

Cinnamomi Cassiae (gui zhi)
Activate the Channels

Cornus Fruit (shan zhu yu)
Nourish Liver Yin

Acanthopanax Root Bark (wu jia pi)
Strengthen ligaments and tendons

Psoralea Fruit (bu gu zhi)
Nourish Kidney Yang and Yin Shen, nourishes Heart

Sound Tendon is recommended to maintain healthy sinews.

- Maintains healthy sinew strength
- Perfect for the dog with tendon or ligament discomfort associated with normal, every day activity
- Naturally supports sinew function

Indications: Sound Tendon is for dogs and cats who have sustained tendon or ligament injuries. Sound Tendon tonifies liver yin, nourishes liver blood, and strengthen sinews.

Chinese Theories: The liver controls the sinews such as tendons, ligaments, and fibrous tissue. The liver is analagous to a healthy green tree with strength and yet pliability to withstand the forces of the environment. The tree needs to have strength to support and yet have flexibility to bend with the wind. Sinews, tendons and ligaments, are similar. They need to have strength to support the body but have flexibility to bend and support the concussive forces placed upon them.

When liver yin or liver blood become deficient the sinews become brittle like a dried out tree. The brittleness to the structures doesn't allow for the flexibility needed in motion and can lend towards tearing of fibers. The herbs in Sound Tendon tonify liver yin and liver blood to restore strength and resilience.

Frankincense Relieve Soreness is recommended to help ease the aches and discomfort cause by daily activity. Keep a bottle on hand for everyday or occasional use.

- Works quickly
- Comfort a dog occasionally requires
- Naturally supports the normal healing process

This unique combination of herbs has gentle and harmonizing properties. In Chinese theory, these herbs have been very successful at quickly managing discomfort and supporting the normal healing process.

Frankincense Relieve Soreness is a must for any dog household. Keep a bottle of this fast-acting formula on hand for occasional use. This formula can be utilized for short-term or everyday use.

Indications: Recommended to help ease the aches and discomfort caused by daily activity. Keep a bottle on hand for everyday or occasional use.

Chinese Theories: Frankincense Relieve Soreness is a blend of blood-moving herbs. From a traditional Chinese standpoint, normal, everyday activity and exercise can lead to acute stasis or stagnation of blood. With time, this stagnation affects the flow of energy, or Qi (pronounced “chee”), to the affected area.

Frankincense Relieve Soreness is designed to move the blood and energy in the affected area. Without the stagnation of blood, the discomfort diminishes, returning the dog to full function as quickly as possible.

Herbsmith Rx Corydalis Relieve Soreness is a combination of herbs to promote the free coursing of Qi, resolve stagnation, activate blood, and alleviate pain.

- Works quickly
- Comfort a dog occasionally requires
- Naturally supports the normal healing process

This unique combination of herbs has gentle and harmonizing properties. In Chinese theory, these herbs have been very successful at quickly managing discomfort and supporting the normal healing process.

Indications: Recommended to help ease the aches and discomfort caused by daily activity. Keep a bottle on hand for everyday or occasional use.

Chinese Theories: The basis of health is the balance of yin and yang but also the free flow of Qi and Blood throughout the body. The herbs in Herbsmith Rx Corydalis Relieve Soreness are all about the free coursing of Qi and Blood in the channels, which heals tissue and resolves stiffness and soreness. With the added benefit of tonifying kidney and liver this foirmula is appropriate for longer term discomfort.

Corydalis Relieve Soreness is a blend of blood-moving, Qi moving and Kidney and Liver nourishing herbs. From a traditional Chinese standpoint, normal, everyday activity and exercise can lead to acute stagnation of blood. With time, this stagnation affects the flow of energy, or Qi (pronounced “chee”), to the affected area. And lastly, long standing stagnation can have a depleting effect on the kidney and liver.

90 & 270 count tablets
30 & 60 count Herbal Bites

Herbsmith Rx Rehmannia Assist Kidney nourishes the kidney, restoring the dog's vitality.

Indications: The herbs in Rehmannia Assist Kidney would benefit the older dog with marginal kidney function, graying muzzle, cloudy eyes, weak hind limbs or chronic lumbar back pain. Aids in the management of kidney disease, constant thirst, excessive urination, lethargy, weak hind limbs, and chronic low-back pain.

Chinese Theories: In Chinese medical theory, the kidney is considered to be the flame of life. So it is no surprise that many older pets develop marginal kidney function or kidney failure as they age. The kidneys nourish the bones, especially the marrow, and as the kidneys become depleted with age or chronic stress, the skeletal structure in the lower back and hind limbs becomes weak due to lack of nourishment.

Kidney failure and kidney meridian dysfunction result from an imbalance of yin and yang. Rehmannia Assist Kidney has tonifying herbs that nourish kidney yin, or fluids, and drain dampness to improve fluid metabolism, allowing the kidney to function to its fullest capacity.

Hearing loss and weakness to hind limbs is also commonly seen in our older pets. Chinese medical theory explains this commonly seen occurrence. The lower back is considered the lumbar mansion of the kidneys. The kidneys nourish the bones and especially the marrow. As the kidneys become depleted with age or chronic stress, the skeletal structure in the lower back and hind limbs become weak due to lack of nourishment. The kidneys also nourish the ears so as kidney yin is diminished so also is hearing.

Dianthus Harmonize Bladder

Proprietary Blend:

Akebia (mu tong)

Clears damp heat, promotes urination, and clears obstructions caused by damp stagnation.

Talcum (hua shi)

Clears damp heat by promoting urination and unblocking painful urinary dysfunction.

Plantago Seed (che qian zi)

Clears damp heat by promoting urination and unblocking painful urinary dysfunction.

Dianthus (qu mai)

Clears damp heat by promoting urination and unblocking painful urinary dysfunction.

Polygonum (bian xu)

Clears damp heat by promoting urination and unblocking painful urinary dysfunction.

Gardenia (zhi zi)

Drains heat through the urine.

Rhubarb Root (zhi da huang)

Drains heat through the stool.

Licorice Root (gan cao)

Harmonizes the actions of all the herbs and relieves abdominal pain.

Rush Pith (deng xin cao)

Guides heat downward.

Dianthus Harmonize Bladder drains damp heat, promotes urination and restores bladder health.

- Simple, effective resolution of a life-long problem
- Harmonizes underlying bladder environment
- Assists in bladder management

Dianthus Harmonize Bladder aids in the management of:

- Recurrent Bladder Infection
- Bladder Stone Formation
- Stranguria
- UTI and FUS
- Crystalluria

Indications: Dianthus Harmonize Bladder helps change the underlying bladder environment of the dog or cat with recurrent bladder infections and/or urgency to urinate allowing for balanced bladder health.

Chinese Theories: Damp heat is considered to be present in the bladder of the animal with recurrent urinary tract infections. This damp heat is often still present after the sterilization of urine with antibiotics and allows for bacteria to grow and thrive. Chronic damp heat leads to crystalluria and eventually to bladder stone formation of all types.

The combination of herbs in Dianthus Harmonize Bladder clears damp heat and promotes urination, changing the propensity to develop recurrent bladder infections and stranguria.

Ginseng Relieve Diarrhea

Proprietary Blend:

Ginseng (ren shen shi chu)
Tonifies Qi and strengthens spleen and stomach

Atractylodes (bai zhu)
Tonifies Qi and strengthens spleen and stomach

Poria (fu ling pian)
Tonifies Qi and strengthens spleen and stomach

Licorice Root (gan cao)
Tonifies Qi and strengthens spleen and stomach

Dioscorea (shan yao)
Strengthens the spleen, tonifies qi, and stops diarrhea

Dolichos Seed (bian dou)
Strengthens the spleen and dispels dampness

Lotus Seed (lian zi)
Strengthens the spleen, tonifies qi, and stops diarrhea

Job's Tears Seed (yi yi ren)
Strengthens the spleen and dispels dampness

Amonum Fruit (sha ren)
Strengthens spleen, harmonizes the stomach, and resolves stagnation

Platycodon (jie geng)
Assists lungs

Ginseng Relieve Diarrhea improves digestion and low-grade diarrhea to help the dog thrive.

- Naturally energizes by maximizing the use of ingested food
- Helps manage low-grade diarrhea
- Resolves soft stool with very little color

Ginseng Relieve Diarrhea aids in the management of:

- Low-grade diarrhea
- Pendulous Abdomen
- Soft stool with little color
- Discolored stool
- Gas
- Lethargy

Indications: Most dogs occasionally experience soft stool, whether from food changes, giardia or food sensitivities. Ginseng Relieve Diarrhea is best suited to help the dog who has recurrent low-grade, on-and-off diarrhea, especially when the dog has no urgency to defecate and the stool has very little odor. Aids in the management of low-grade diarrhea, gas, discolored stool, pendulous abdomen, soft stool with little odor, and lethargy.

Chinese Theories: The spleen and stomach regulate the transformation and transportation of fluids throughout the body. When the spleen or stomach is exhausted through poor nutrition, chronic stress, debilitation or aging, fluids of the body are affected leading to low-grade chronic diarrhea.

The food a dog eats is digested by the stomach and utilized by the spleen. When the spleen or stomach are not functioning optimally, the food eaten is not fully transformed into Qi, or energy. Lethargy and decreased energy will eventually become clinically evident.

The combination of herbs in Ginseng Relieve Diarrhea is used to tonify the spleen and stomach, increase levels of Qi, leach out dampness and relieve diarrhea.

Bupleurum Harmonize Stomach

Proprietary Blend:

Bupleurum (chai hu)

Smooths liver qi and dispenses Qi stagnation

Angelica Tang Kuei (dang gui)

Tonifies blood, nourishes yin, and softens liver

Peony Root (bai shao)

Tonifies blood, nourishes yin, and softens liver

Atractylodes (bai zhu)

Tonifies spleen to help generate blood

Mentha (bo he)

Assists chai hu

Ginger Rhizome (gan jiang)

Warms and harmonizes the stomach

Licorice Root (gan cao)

Harmonizes

Poria (fu ling)

Tonifies spleen to help generate blood

Bupleurum Harmonize Stomach relieves chronic vomiting, excess gas and poor or finicky digestion, restoring proper gastrointestinal function.

- Helps with chronic vomiting, especially of bile
- Improves G.I functions, helping to manage I.B.D symptoms

Bupleurum Harmonize Stomach aids in the management of:

- Chronic vomiting of bile
- Food sensitivities
- Foul smelling flatulence
- Diarrhea with urgency
- IBD symptoms
- Gurgly guts

Indications: Chronic low-grade vomiting occasionally including bile, picky or sensitive stomach, gurgly gut, soft stool, mucus in the stool, foul-smelling flatulence and weight changes are clinical signs of the dog who would benefit from the herbs in Bupleurum Harmonize Stomach.

Chinese Theories: Traditional Chinese veterinary medicine sees the above dog as having Liver Qi Stagnation and liver overacting on the spleen/stomach. Liver Qi can be affected by many circumstances such as toxins, allergies, poor diet, frustration and genetic predisposition. When Liver Qi is stagnated, heat and inflammation ensue. With time this stagnation can have an effect on the functions of the spleen or stomach and lead to vomiting of bile and IBD-type symptoms.

Herbs in Bupleurum Harmonize Stomach cool the heat of the Liver Qi Stagnation, harmonize the liver, spleen and stomach, and strengthen the spleen and stomach functions.

Codonopsis Harmonize Qi

Proprietary Blend:

Astragalus (huang qi)

Tonifies Qi, blood, and spleen and augments the Qi.

Codonopsis Root (dang shen)

Tonifies Qi of spleen and lungs

Codonopsis Harmonize Qi is recommended to support a healthy immune system.

- Supports normal immune response
- Raises the level of Qi
- Supports immune defenses
- Maintains a healthy constitution

Indications: Codonopsis Harmonize Qi is a remarkably simple formula that allows an animal to maximize its own health. The individual herbs in Codonopsis Harmonize Qi have been shown to have numerous immune-supporting effects. By maintaining the animal's overall level of immunity, these herbs assist the body's innate ability to keep itself healthy.

Chinese Theories: From a traditional Chinese perspective, Wei Qi (pronounced "way chee"), or the immune system, is considered to be the body's defense. The root of all Qi in the body is the functioning of the stomach and spleen. The stomach breaks food down and the spleen absorbs and distributes the nutrients throughout the body and develops Qi.

Bacteria and viruses are opportunistic in nature and may only invade an animal's body because they can. Codonopsis Harmonize Qi is a combination of Qi tonics that supports the ability of the stomach and spleen to properly utilize nutrients, develop Qi and tonify blood. By maintaining these functions, Codonopsis Harmonize Qi promotes the overall level of Wei Qi, maintaining the body's ability to keep itself healthy.

Tang Kuei Harmonize Yin

Proprietary Blend:

Cooked Rehmannia Root (shu di huang)
Tonifies the blood, nourishes the yin and essence

Angelica Tang Kuei (dang gui tou)
Tonifies, invigorates, and harmonizes the blood

Dioscorea (shan yao)
Tonifies and augments the spleen and stomach, tonifies lung Qi and kidney

Eucommia Bark (du zhong)
Tonifies liver and kidneys, aids in the smooth flow of Qi and blood

Achyranthes Root (huai niu xi)
Invigorates blood, strengthens sinews and bones, induces downward movement of blood

Honey Coated Licorice Root (gan cao)
Harmonizes herbs as well as spleen

Cornus Fruit (shan zhu yu)
Stabilizes kidney and augments liver and kidney

Tang Kuei Harmonize Yin is recommended for yin deficiency of kidney and liver.

- Tonifies yin of kidney and liver
- Nourishes and moves blood

Indications: In veterinary practice, Tang Kuei Harmonize Yin is useful to assist in the management of older, yin deficient patients with dry, hacking cough, restlessness at night (the yin time of the day), dementia and senility, hyperthyroidism. Many other western defined disorders would be appropriate TCVM presentation.

Chinese Theories: Yin deficiency is best seen as dryness, intolerance to heat and deficiency heat. Tang Kuei Harmonize Yin is a variation of the classic formula Rehmannia Six (liu wei di huang wan). This formula is used to aid in the management of kidney and liver yin deficiency as well as nourish and move blood.
